

WHAT'S UP?

Concert, presented by The Little Orchestra Society. Today at 10:30 a.m. and noon, tomorrow, 1 and 2:30 p.m., $12 and $40. Gerald W. Lynch Theater at John Jay College, 899 10th Ave., at West 59th Street; 212-971-9500.

KITCHEN CONFIDENTIAL: The 52nd Street Project pairs Hell's Kitchen kids with theater pros to create original one-act plays. See the precocious performer/playwrights (and their mentors) in "Getting There: The Journey Plays." Tonight at 7:30, tomorrow at 3 p.m., free (call for reservations). TBG Theater, 312 W. 36th St., between Eighth and Ninth avenues; 212-642-5052.

TOMORROW

PAGE TURNERS: Need a few good books? At Family

By JACQUELINE BURT

Fun Day, the grand finale of the JCC in Manhattan's Annual Book Fair, you can hear live music, make crafts and snack on pizza while browsing the goods. 4 to 6 p.m., $14. 334 Amsterdam Ave., at 76th Street; 646-505-5708.

STILL TO COME

OK CHORALE: Founded to unite kids from opposing sides of the Emerald Isle, the Cross Border Orchestra of Ireland is now the country's foremost youth orchestra.

They'll cross even more cultures when they join with four tri-state area youth choirs at Avery Fisher Hall. Thursday at 8 p.m., $35 to $100. Lincoln Center, Columbus Avenue at 65th Street; 212-875-5030.

TODAY

JUST DUCKY: "Make Way for Ducklings" fans can practically see the characters in that classic picture book tapping their wee webbed feet to Daniel Pinkwater's score in this Lolli-Pops

